ECONOMIC OUTLOOK FORUM

Government shutdown, potential national recession, labor market challenges, location of work/office vacancies, Metro's financial cliff, local government finances – and a presidential race. Not exactly a recipe for clarity regarding the DC region's economic prospects for 2024. Still, data and insights can offer guidance and perspective on how our region is likely to fare next year. Join us in taking a look at where our economy stands now and for 2024 at this year's Economic Outlook Forum presented by the Stephen S. Fuller Institute at George Mason University's Schar School of Policy and Government.
